3 Declarations of Interest

3.1 The Chair declared an "other interest" as a trustee of NORAH (Norfolk Archives and Heritage Development Foundation).

4 Finance and Risk

- 4.1 The Committee received a report that covered the Norfolk Record Office revenue budget for 2022/23, capital programme and reserves and provisions and an update on the service risk register.
- 4.2 The following points were discussed and noted:
  - The Record Office was currently forecast to achieve a balanced budget position.
  - The Risk Register contained six key risks: one had a red risk rating, four amber and one green. The red rated risk (RM13959) related to a loss or reduction of funding, including that from income generation which accounted for around 30% of the service's funding. Measures have been introduced ensure that this income generation was maintained and, where possible, increased.
  - Reserves and provisions were as set out in paragraph 1.3 of the report.
  - In reply to questions, it was pointed out that the Norfolk Record Office had comparatively high levels of income generation and the potential to generate additional income was limited.
- 4.3 The Committee CONSIDERED and COMMENTED on:

Forecast position of the revenue budget, reserves, and provisions. Management of risk for 2022/23.

5 Performance Report

- 5.1 The Committee received a report by the County Archivist that outlined delivery of Norfolk Record Office (NRO) services and improvements made between 1 October 2022 and 10 March 2023.
- 5.2 The following points were discussed and noted:
  - The County Archivist explained the wide range of work that continued to be done to make the Norfolk Record Office more accessible to new audiences.
  - It was pointed out that staff had started working with men from HMP Norwich on the Norfolk iteration of the Change Minds project. There were many additional aspects to the running of a project of this kind in a prison setting.
  - Other activities had included staff putting on the first in-person Deciphering Old Handwriting course since lockdown, which began in January. Ten people signed up to the course.
  - Staff had also provided training to volunteers on several projects. These include 4 training sessions for volunteers on the Mile Cross 100 project, celebrating the 100th anniversary of Britain's oldest purpose-built social housing estate.
  - A Councillor highlighted the support that volunteers provided to the Record Office in the King's Lynn area and the work being done to encourage more volunteers to come forward to help support all the heritage sites in King's Lynn.
  - The County Archivist reminded Members that at the previous meeting they had received a report on public access to the service which included a proposal to reduce opening hours by closing the searchroom on a Friday and part-compensating for this by opening half an hour earlier (at 9.30) on Tuesday to Thursday. The County Archivist said that many of the NRO's regular users had expressed concern about these changes, in particular the impact it would have on those wanting to spend an extended period using the NRO. Whilst the NRO still needed to deliver the budget savings it had started a six-month trial to see if it could meet the concerns of its users. During this trial, the NRO would open from 10am to 4pm on Fridays for users who had pre-ordered documents. Microfilms would not be available on the day but would be accessible at the Norfolk Heritage Centre. In reply to questions, the County Archivist said that during the trail the demand for documents would be closely observed to see if the number of documents that could be requested should be increased. Members welcomed the start of the trial and asked to be kept informed of developments at their next meeting.

5.3 The Committee CONSIDERED and COMMENTED on the contents of the report and the actions taken by the Record Office to provide a service during the period between 1 October 2023 and 10 March 2023.

6. Storage Project Options Appraisal

- 6.1 The Committee received a report that considered an options appraisal of the potential solutions to issues surrounding storage of the NRO's growing collection, long-term preservation of documents and public access. The Committee assessed a list of potential solutions against a defined set of benefits which the project aimed to deliver.
- 6.2 After carefully considering the available options, the Committee was of the unanimous opinion that Option 4 (Build an Extension to Existing NRO Storage Based on Passive Principles) was the preferred solution. This option envisaged an extension to the existing Record Office constructed with high thermal inertia and high air tightness along with minimal intervention in the internal environment and assumed that only paper archives would be stored in it. Another key component of this option's success was the role of the Collection which itself acted as a buffer; therefore, the store needed to be filled with fully packaged archives. This option provided the required internal environments with a much lower carbon impact than the use of air conditioning.
- 6.3 The next step in the appraisal process was for the County Archivist to consider potential funding options and report back on this aspect of the project to a future meeting. It was noted that a Record Office extension would be outside the scope of lottery funding.
- 6.4 The Committee CONSIDERED and COMMENTED on the contents of the report and on a show of hands unanimously supported taking forward the recommended option 4 as set out above.

7 Future Meetings

7.1 The dates of future meetings were noted:

28 July 2023	10.30 am
27 October 2023	10.30 am
2 February 2024	10.30 am

19 April 2024 10.30 am

8 Chairman's concluding remarks

8.1 The Chair placed on record thanks to those members who were not standing for re-election in the forthcoming District Council elections (including Cllr Elizabeth Nockolds and Cllr Virginia Gay who were long serving Members of the Committee).

The meeting concluded at 12.10 pm

Cllr Michael Chenery of Horsbrugh, Chair of the Committee

Executive Summary

This report covers the NRO revenue budget for 2023/24, capital programme and reserves and provisions. Section 2 provides the Committee with an update on the service risk register.

The main issues for consideration by this Committee are:

- Progress with NRO Revenue budgets and Reserves and Provisions indicates that the service is forecasting a balanced position.
- Progress with risk management for NRO.

Recommendations:

The Norfolk Records Committee is asked to consider and comment on:

- 1. Forecast position of the revenue budget, reserves and provisions
- 2. Management of risk for 2023/24

1. Revenue Budget

- 1.1. The outturn for 2022/23 was £676,365, which resulted in a £685 underspend.
- 1.2. The budget for 2023/24 is £696,040 and is summarised in the table below. Within this budget a £27,000 saving. These have been identified as coming from staff savings which have been achieved through management of staff vacancies and a reduction in searchroom opening hours.

Service	Current budget £	2023/24 forecast Outturn £	Forecast +Over/- Underspend £
Salary	819,400	819,400	0
Premises	4,470	4,470	0
Travel	2,250	2,250	0
Supplies & Services	48,340	48,340	0
Support Services	1,470	1,470	0
Capital	318,580	318,580	0
Income
Grant Income	(56,290)	(56,290)	0
Sales fees and Charges	(250,450)	(250,450)	0
Other Income	(191,730)	(191,730)	0
Total	696,040	696,040	0

1.3. We are currently forecasting a nil over / under-spend on the 2023/24 revenue budget.

2. Reserves and Provisions

2.1. The table summarising the position appears below.

Reserves and Provisions	Balances at 01Apr 23	Forecast Balance at 31 Mar 24	Planned Change
Norfolk Record Office
Residual Insurance and Lottery Bids	80,886	80,886	0
Unspent Grants & Contributions Reserve	29,191	29,191	0
Service Total	110,077	110,077	0

3. Risk Management

- 3.1. The Service continues to manage the risks to its objectives both internal and external. The Risk Register is reviewed and updated on a quarterly basis and was last reported to this Committee at the previous meeting. A summary of the Risk Register based on the most recent reviews appears at Appendix A. All risks are being well managed.
- 3.2. The Register contains six key risks: one has a red current risk rating of read four amber and one green. The latter (RM14167) relates to emergency planning and is kept on the risk register to highlight its importance.
- 3.3. The red rated risk (RM13959) relates to a loss or reduction of funding, including that from income generation which accounts for around 30% of the service's funding. Measures have been introduced ensure that this income generation is maintained and, where possible, increased. This leaves a residual risk for the year rated as amber.
- 3.4. The remaining risks are rated as amber

4. Issues, risks and innovation

4.1. Officers have considered all the implications which members should be aware of. Apart from those listed in the report (above), there are no other implications to take into account.

5. Background

5.1. There are no other documents to refer to.

Norfolk Records Committee

Item No: 7

Report Title: Norfolk Record Office Service Plan

Date of Meeting: 28 July 2023

Responsible Cabinet Member: Cllr Margaret Dewsbury (Cabinet Member for Communities & Partnerships)

Responsible Director: Steve Miller, Director of Culture and Heritage

Is this a Key Decision? No

Recommendations:

1. That Committee notes and comments on proposed service plans and accepts the adoption of the Service Plan for 2023/4

1. Background and Purpose

1.1 This report introduces the mission of the Norfolk Record Office (NRO) and how it sets out to advance these through a set of long-term aims. It then provides details of the 2023-24 NRO Service Plan.

The Norfolk Record Office Mission

- 1.2 The mission of the Norfolk Record Office (NRO) is to collect, preserve and make accessible archives relating to Norfolk.
- 1.3 Archives can be defined as the documentary by-product of human activity retained for their long-term value. They are contemporary records created by individuals and organisations as they go about their business and therefore provide a direct window on past events. They can come in a wide range of formats including written, photographic, moving image, sound, digital and analogue.

1.4 Archives are fundamental in not only maintaining the irreplaceable cultural and historical record of our county, but in upholding the rights of citizens and the operation of a democratic society

Collecting

- 1.5 The NRO collects archives from numerous sources, many regulated by legislation and its role as a Place of Deposit under the Public Records Acts. To retain this role, it is required to achieve Archive Service Accreditation under the scheme managed by The National Archives. Accreditation was last awarded in 2021. It is due for renewal in 2024 and full re-accreditation in 2027.
- 1.6 An important part of the professional duties of the NRO is the process of accessioning where the legal status and provenance of each deposit is recorded, and records are subject to appraisal to determine which records should be selected for permanent preservation. An important part of maintaining the evidential value of the Collection is the professional framework and code of ethics under which archivists operate.
- 1.7 The NRO also recognizes that all of Norfolk's archives are not, and cannot, all be included in its Collection. As such it recognises its role as a key stakeholder in archive activities in the county and has run projects supporting community archives across the county.
- 1.8 Every year the NRO receives more than 20 cubic metres of archives along with a growing amount of born digital records. These come from many sources including local authorities such as county, district and parish councils, and drainage boards; public records creators such as coast guards, magistrate and coroners' courts, and hospitals; places of worship, business, charities, estates and many more. The NRO Collection currently amounts to nearly 3000m<sup>3</sup>.

Preserving

- 1.9 The NRO Collection is Norfolk's long-term memory bank stretching back nearly 1000 years. As present-day custodians of this unique resource, the NRO has a duty to future generations that it remains in accessible for centuries to come. Therefore, long-term preservation is at the core of the NRO mission.
- 1.10 The NRO Collection Care Policy contains the four areas of activity which ensure that this objective is achieve:
  - i. Minimising the risk of immediate loss. This includes fire protection, security and emergency planning
  - ii. Reducing risk to documents when they are in use. This includes document handling and provisions for access to documents which require professional handling by conservators to make them accessible.

- iii. Conserving damaged documents. This coves the repair to recognized international standards of archives.
- Storing documents in conditions suitable for their preservation. This has the greatest impact on the long-term preservation of the Collection and covers micro-environments (the materials used to package and protect archives) and the macro-environments (the temperature, air quality and humidity levels in strongrooms.)

Making Accessible

- 1.11 Apart from some exceptions relating to data protection and poor condition, the whole of the NRO Collection is publicly accessible to users. Access to the public searchrooms in Norwich and King's Lynn is free. The searchroom is and will remain a key component of access for the foreseeable future.
- 1.12 Digitization has a role in the NRO's access provision but with the extent of the Collection it will remain a contributing element. The NRO makes digital images available through contracts with family history websites, through its catalogue (for example, some of the core series from the King's Lynn Borough Archive) and through project (for example, the 2nd Air Division Digital Archive and sound archives through the British Library Unlocking Our Sound Heritage partnership).
- 1.13 The role of metadata (catalogues, indexes etc.) in improving access is of central importance. The NRO catalogue sits between the user and the Collection; the more data it contains, the better the chance of all researchers finding something of use. At the start of May 2023, the database containing the NRO catalogue had 1,956,580 rows of data.
- 1.14 Whilst archive staff carry out ISAD-G (the International Standard for Archive Description – General) compliant cataloguing, the detail this provides is often not sufficient for the general users. Therefore, the volunteer programme of detailed cataloguing is an important component of improving access.
- 1.15 Another component of making archives accessibility is the NRO's Education, Outreach and Wellbeing work. A programme of school and children's activities, lifelong learning events and mental wellbeing projects introduces new audiences to the Collection, provides skills development and its use, and realised the some of the benefits of using archives to explore the past.

3 Norfolk Record Office Long-Term Strategy

3.1 Each year, through its Service Plan, the NRO seeks to progress these six strategic aims. These are:

Fig 1: NRO Long-Term Aims

Enable NRO to Continue Receiving Accessions

3.2 In the NRO's 2022 Archive Service Accreditation assessment the criteria for Accommodation were assessed as "Partially Met." This was because of the need to plan storage for Collection growth beyond the 2027 date at which it is predicted that the NRO's strongrooms will be full. Further to this, an Options Appraisal was presented to the Norfolk Records Committee in April 2023. The Committee adopted a recommendation of a preferred option to progress: building an extension to the existing premises as a passive paper store.

Support Norfolk's Archive Ecology

3.3 The NRO aims to support the skills and sustainability of community archives in Norfolk. In recent year, to promote this aim, it has delivered two Community Archives conference, the National Lottery funded Community Archives: Skills, Sustainability and Support project (CA:SSS), and Norfolk Archives and Heritage Development Foundation (NorAH) funded training in King's Lynn and Norwich along was a Community Archives Fair at the Forum in Norwich in April 2023. One outcome of the CA:SSS project was a Community Archives toolkit on the NRO website which includes training videos, cataloguing templates, and guidance on preservation, documentation and interpretive planning.

Enable Discover of Information from Archives

3.4 Searchable and shareable information on the archives the NRO holds often referred to as metadata – is at the heart of discovery. More and better structured metadata means easier and more widespread access to the Collection. For example, since indexes to patients in some of the St Andrews Hospital (SAH) Case Books have been added to the NRO Catalogue, 27 orders have been received for digital copies with an income of £530. These have included orders from France, Australia and Canada.

Ensure Archives are Accessible Now and in the Future

- 3.5 Archives come in many formats, analogue and digital. All have their own preservation challenges. As well as the measures outlined above, the NRO uses conservation-staff skills to make fragile documents, unsuitable for production in the searchroom, accessible. A details collection survey undertaken for planning a long-term storage strategy, revealed that this support means that we can provide access to a further 8.3% of the Collection.
- 3.6 The NRO is also developing its skills and systems for dealing with borndigital archive. The accession rate for digital records is at a relatively low level at present; however, it is anticipated that this will rise significantly over the next decade.

Enable New Audiences to Benefit from the Use of Archives

3.7 Archives have myriad uses and can provide significant educational, cultural, economic, legal and wellbeing benefits to their users. However, archive services can often be perceived as academic institutions for "serious" researchers. Clearly this is not the case. Therefore, it is important to demystify the service by engaging with people of all ages. Sometimes by developing skills, at others through direct, mediated use of the collection. One area where the latter has been developed in recent years is through using archives to improve mental wellbeing. Of particular note in this area is the Change Minds project where the NRO is currently working on Scaling Up Change Minds. This a National Lottery Heritage Fund supported project which is enabling other archives across the UK to run their own versions of the Change Minds project developed in Norfolk.

Provide an Economically and Environmentally Sustainable Service

- 3.8 In order to provide an economically sustainable service, over the last decade the NRO has developed its income generating activities. It now generates around 30% of its revenue. This income comes from a range of activities which relate to the NRO's core mission. These include licencing to family history websites; issuing of copy birth, death and marriage certificates; digital reprographics; provision of professional services; and the sale of archival boxes.
- 3.9 The NRO also has a partner charity, the Norfolk Archives and Heritage Development Foundation (NorAH). The chair of the Norfolk Records Committee acts as an ex officio trustee of NorAH.

NorAH raises money to support its object of:

Advancement of education for the public benefit, in the history of Norfolk by working in conjunction with the Norfolk Record Office and its partner organisations, in particular but not exclusively by funding;

(a) The acquisition, preservation and processing of records and printed materials worthy of permanent retention so they can be made accessible to the public by the Norfolk Record Office and its partner organisations,

(b) Projects and activities which engage different audiences with records and printed materials worthy of permanent retention.

- 3.10 Since it was founded in 2016, NorAH has issued grants with a total value of £55,497. These have included grant to the NRO, the Girl Guides, Change Minds, community archives and the Norfolk Heritage Centre.
- 3.11 In terms of environmental sustainability, in 2023 the NRO is going through a decarbonization programme which will see all its building services electrified. The NRO has also, through the close monitoring of its storage environments, significantly reduced its energy consumption by cutting the running hours of its air conditioning and adopting seasonal targets for temperature and humidity.
- 3.12 The NRO's long-term storage strategy is centred on managing its Collection so a low-energy solution can be provided for paper. This would deliver both environmental and economic benefits over the life of the building.
